Did you know the average time a hiring manager will look at your CV for is 6 seconds?

You need to make an impact, and fast. You know that your CV has to stand out from your competition. It is not only information that makes this happen, if a prospective employer has 300 CVs to go through in just an hour, they won't read everything – they will skim over the basic details.

You need to make the most important and relevant information be apparent, immediately.

Take the pain out of writing your CV with our CV templates...

We have created a few stand-out CV templates to help you build your CV. Just replace the text in our template with your own.

You know that your CV has to stand out from your competition. It is not only information that makes this happen. If a prospective employer has 300 CVs to go through in just an hour, they won't read everything – they will skim over the basic details.

Make sure to keep each section separate; use page titles and keep your CV simple and clean. If you go over two pages, that third page will most likely never be read, so put the most important information on the first page.
